

MANY EMERGENCY VEHICLES TO MOVE IN A RAID ALERT

To Be Sounded Between 4 and 6 P. M., Saturday, August 4th

ORDERS BY RADIO

Test To Familiarize Vehicle Operators With The System

An air raid alert in which emergency vehicles will move to dispersal areas will be conducted here Saturday, August 4th. It was announced today by Howard Boyd, Security Chief.

The alert will be sounded sometime between four and six o'clock in the afternoon. With the sounding of the signal all emergency vehicles will move to the dispersal areas established around the perimeter of Bristol. At such points they will receive further orders by radio stations which are to be established at these points. The headquarters for the air raid alert will be at the Bristol Municipal Building.

The radio communications are in charge of Dr. Samuel Katz, John Rafferty and Frank Sugalski. During the test the emergency vehicles will go to designated locations and then over the radio communications system they will be given further orders.

The test is to familiarize operators of emergency vehicles with the system, which would be put into service in case of an atomic attack on Bristol. In case of such an attack those vehicles designated as emergency vehicles would go to certain designated spots and there await orders dispatching them to other locations where they would play an important part in aiding and assisting in such an emergency. The emergency vehicles consist of ambulances and fire trucks.

Mosquito War Here Now In Its Eighth Week

Now in its eighth week, the Bristol Chamber of Commerce's mosquito and insect control project has witnessed the application of approximately 4,000 gallons of insecticide in Bristol Borough and Bristol Township, according to figures released by the committee today.

The special motorized fogging equipment has been operated in the program approximately 256 hours, or an average of 32 hours weekly. Two-thirds of this time has been devoted to spraying in the Township, while the remaining third has been found ample to do the Borough because of its compactness.

Announcement was also made that the committee's mosquito trap has just been put into operation. This device, which will be emptied of its catch daily, will enable the committee to forward the specimens to the Pennsylvania Department of Health for detailed analysis.

Residents of both the Borough and the Township are again urged to eliminate all potential breeding places near and around their homes, particular emphasis being placed on the removal of all open water-holding containers, the ideal breeding spot of the mosquito.

ROHM & HAAS WARS ON UNPLEASANT ODORS

Special New Type Equipment is About To Be Installed

PROGRAM SINCE 1948

Special new type equipment consisting of a trickle filter, circulating pumps and mixing basin are about to be installed adjacent to an impounding basin at the Rohm & Haas Co. plant to prevent unpleasant odors.

The District Engineer of the Pennsylvania Department of Health has been notified of the completion of the company's three-year anti-stream pollution project.

This program, which was the result of a cooperative agreement between the Commonwealth and the company, was initiated in 1948 and involved spending $734,000 up to the present time. By the end of the year the company will have spent $1,156,000. The last important step in this program was the expansion of the ammonium sulphate plant at a cost of $380,000. This plant was erected to reduce both the acid and the organic discharges into the Delaware river.

In accordance with the same agreement, other organic wastes were diverted to an impounding basin at Belle Meade farms through a one-mile pipeline. Special new type equipment consisting of a trickle filter, circulating pumps and mixing basin are about to be installed adjacent to this impounding basin to prevent unpleasant odors.

Plans for the new trickle filter were developed after an intensive 18 month experimental program had been completed. Orders for the necessary materials for its construction have already been placed and when completed, about the first of the year, it will be the largest of its type in this section of the country.

Of course, the interest of the Rohm & Haas Company in pollution abatement has not been confined to the period starting in 1948, but dates from 1937 when the first facilities were installed for the collection and processing of phosphoric acid sludges. Since then there has been increasing consideration given to this important problem.

NEW PERSONNEL IN THE NESHAMINY SCHOOL DISTRICT INCLUDES ADDITIONS TO STAFF, ELECTED BECAUSE OF THE INCREASING PUPIL ENROLLMENT; 78 TO BE ON STAFF, COMPARED TO 70 LAST TERM

LANGHORNE, July 31 — New personnel in the Neshaminy School District for the school year 1951-1952 has been announced. Several of the new teachers are additions to the staff who have been elected because of the increasing pupil enrollment. The total number of teachers this year will be 78 as compared with 70 during the school year 1950-1951. A total enrollment of over 2000 children is anticipated for the opening of the school term.

"This year, as in previous years, several teachers will be assigned to sub-standard rooms, however," it is hoped that as soon as the new high school building, which is now in the process of development, is completed, that all pupils will be assigned to standard classrooms," says a spokesman.

Miss Helen P. Cox, an experienced teacher of English and a resident of Troy, Pa., has been elected as head of the English department. Miss Cox studied at Allegheny College and at Pennsylvania State College from which she holds the degree of bachelor of arts. She has done graduate study at the University of Wisconsin, from which she holds the degree of master of arts. Aside from teaching Miss Cox has had considerable experience in industry. She is highly recommended as a teacher by those who have been associated with her as instructor and supervisors.

The music department will be under the direction of Miss Joan Mattern, a graduate of Lebanon Valley College, class of 1951. Miss Mattern is highly recommended as a teacher and as a student. Her special talent in the field of music brought to her special recognition during her under-graduate study both in the college and in the community. Miss Mattern is not entirely a stranger to the Langhorne Community since her sister, Mrs. Warren Ringer, has been librarian and teacher during the past few years.

William A. Campbell, who during the past few years has been teaching in the Upper Dublin Township junior senior high school at Fort Washington, Pa., has been elected to head the department of social studies. Mr. Campbell is a graduate of the State Teachers College, East Stroudsburg, class of 1949.

He holds the degree of master of education from Temple University and is a candidate for the degree of doctor of education at Columbia University. In addition to being a specialist in the social sciences Mr. Campbell is certified as a teacher of science and English. He is keenly interested in athletics, including football, baseball and track. From 1943 to 1946 Mr. Campbell was in the United States Army Air Forces and served overseas with the armed forces. Mr. Campbell's present residence is East Stroudsburg where he and his wife own and manage a grocery store.

Vincent Hermanson has been elected to teach social studies in the junior high school and commercial geography in the senior high school. Mr. Hermanson also holds certification in the biological sciences, health and physical education. During the past year he taught in the Philadelphia School system and was in charge of special classes for retarded pupils. His success in working with children in the Philadelphia schools recommended him highly to the school district when it considered candidates for the junior high school social studies department.

Mr. Hermanson is a graduate of the Langhorne - Middletown High School, class of 1937 and of Temple University, class of 1950, from which he received the degree of bachelor of science in education. Mr. Hermanson has recently purchased a home in the Langhorne area. During the Second World War he served with the United States Armed Forces in Iceland and in England. It is quite probable that Mr. Hermanson will be in charge of track activities in the Neshaminy High School.

Mrs. Shirley Ott, who completed the year as a teacher of girls health and physical education, following the resignation of Mrs. Gloria Mack in March 1951, has been elected a full time teacher in this department. Mrs. Ott, aside from teaching health and physical education will be in charge of the girls athletic program. "With her experience in our school system she is certainly no stranger to our community. Her successful handling of the program

PEACE TALKS

UN TRUCE CAMP NEAR KAESONG—The Allies tried vainly today to get Red acceptance of a Korean truce line mostly along Parallel 38 and told the Communists it would be of "mutual benefit."

But the top Red delegate testily reiterated at Tuesday's session of the Kaesong Conference the contention that the buffer zone should be drawn astride the controversial parallel.

The next move seemed to have been put up to the Communists after five days of deadlock over the essential issue of where to locate a cease-fire neutral belt across Korea's war-battered peninsula.

"HOT-RODDERS" HAVE MUSHROOM INCREASE

Penna. Police Face One of Biggest Jobs in Their History

'KILLING THEMSELVES'

Police Chief Frank Sweeney, of Jenkintown, has been a police officer for 23 years and police chief for 16 years.

Tomorrow he takes office as President of the Pennsylvania Chiefs of Police Association. Herewith he details some of the problems that law officers will encounter in the Commonwealth during the coming year.

By Frank Sweeney
President-elect, Pennsylvania Chiefs of Police Association

PHILADELPHIA, July 31 — (INS)—Pennsylvania police are today facing one of the biggest jobs in their history.

Our two main headaches are public apathy toward civil defense and the mushrooming increase of teen-age "hot-rodders."

To face these jobs, and others, most police departments in the Commonwealth are operating with virtually the same size staffs they had 10 or even 15 years ago.

There is not a police officer at our convention who has not said he is worried about the hot-rodders, young people who speed recklessly in automobiles.

These thrill-happy youngsters are out killing themselves on our highways every night, and there is little we can do to stop them.

The average police car is not built to do 100, or 115 miles per hour. Unless the hot-rodders are nabbed when they are getting started, we are usually out of luck. As soon as they spot a police car they turn off their lights and speed off into the night. We don't see the car again until we go out with the ambulance.

The fault lies with the parents of these kids. There is not a boy in the world who needs a car that can go 120 miles per hour. When parents see a boy buy an old junker and soup it up with overhead valves and double exhaust, they ought to know what he is doing.

A typical hot-rod game is the one called "chicken" played with two cars at speeds between 95 and 110 miles per hour. The teen-agers — girls included — get into cars at opposite ends of a stretch of highway.

Nine Southeastern Pennsylvania Chapter officials have resigned in opposition to the national policy. Harriman said that the Red Cross board of governors is completely representative of the American people and the 3,738 chapters that make up the organization. The Southeastern Pennsylvania Chapter includes Bucks County.

FARMERS BANK COMPLETES SALE OF ADDITIONAL STOCK

Dispose of $500,000 Additional Stock, Greatly Enlarging Its Capacity

1/2 CAPITAL, 1/2 SURPLUS

Now in Position to Handle Increased Business Expected

Greatly enlarging its capacity, and further strengthening its safety factor, the Farmers National Bank of Bucks County yesterday completed the sale of $500,000 in additional stock.

Divided half and half between the capital account and the surplus, the additional capital gives the Farmers National Bank a total capitalization as follows:

Stock	$ 500,000
Surplus	1,250,000
Undivided profits, approx.	68,000
Total capitalization	$1,818,000

Measured by the ratio of capital to deposits, which is the yardstick of safety in banking, the Farmers National Bank now has much the largest ratio in Bucks County, and one of the largest in the entire state.

The higher capitalization puts the bank in position to handle the increased business expected shortly in this area, according to officials at the institution who announced the results of the stock sale.

The stock was sold on a "rights" basis, with each of shareholders being given a certificate allowing him to buy one new share for each of the 25,000 old shares outstanding which he owned. The new stock has a par value of $10 a share, but was sold at $20 a share. The rights were figured on a value of $4.50 apiece for resale purposes.

Ninety percent of the new stock was bought up by shareholders. In the other 10 percent, mostly involving stock held by estates, trust funds, etc., where it was not legally possible for the "rights" to be exercised, these were sold, virtually all of them being bought by local business men, and much the greater portion by other shareholders.

When the rights, which were mailed out early in June, expired at noon yesterday, it was found that all of them had been turned in except two.

These represent stock of the bank owned by a leper colony in Japan—the Hospital of the Resurrection of Hope, in Kumamoto. The history of the stock and the hospital reads like something invented by a novelist.

Years ago a charity-minded Bristol citizen died and in his estate left a share of the Bank's stock to the leper colony, which was then operated by a Mrs. Hannah Riddell and a Miss Wright. The single share has been increased by stock dividends in the past so that it now calls for two of the "rights."

Mrs. Riddell died in 1934. During the World War the leper colony continued, but ownership and management of it became confused. After the war the United States Army of occupation took it over, and Miss Wright died in 1950, with no known heirs. Today the original share of Farmers National Bank stock is being held in a bank in Tokyo, but apparently no one has the authority to sign for the rights or otherwise take action. The Farmers National Bank has officially segregated funds to deal with the matter whenever title to the outstanding bank share is clarified.

The increase in the Farmers National Bank capital was authorized at a special meeting of shareholders last May 29, and thereafter approved by the U. S. Comptroller of the Currency.

SUMMERS ARE DIFFERENT

Perhaps it's only temporary, but there seems to be a paucity of those worth-while items from near and far that formerly made up the summer news budget. Oh, yes, the Channel swimmers are up to full peacetime strength, and there are the usual hot weather warnings to avoid lightning, cramps and sunstroke.

Loch Ness hasn't let the reading public down, either, and the customary monster has been reported by the customary fishermen in time for the tourist trade.

A Massachusetts farmer is sued because his horse ran into and damaged an automobile, a socially significant item which reinforces a growing conviction that the automobile, modern vintage, is not here to stay at that.

New York City is having its usual and unmeted water shortage, although with reservoirs at 88 per cent of capacity it can be seen this is a diluted shortage at that. Naples contributes a heart-rending yarn about an ex-American economist, Lucky Luciano, whose shoes used to retail at $500 a pair, living in a $2 hotel room, sans tub and shower, also sub-poenas.

Still, the old solid stuff isn't there. Why, Cape May and Cape Cod between them haven't produced a single worth-while monster all year. Not a fish, equipped with horns and tail lights, has been sighted along the whole Jersey coast. New England has done no better.

From Texas not even a run of the mill two-headed steer has been adopted by a family Auredale. And the younger generation knows nothing about temperatures that formerly set sweaty gentlemen to frying eggs on the sidewalks of New York.

Nope, save for the cost of living, it's been flat everywhere without a flying saucer to punctuate the running story about the out again, in again reds and their mysterious bail. Nary a word about midgets sitting on financiers' laps anymore, which may be due to the fact that both midgets and financiers are now working for the internal revenue department like the rest of us. Ah, well, it's probably going to be a short summer anyway.

Much is said about controlling gaubling, but no one knows what to do about the man buying a cantelope.

A communist leader has had a brain operation. Perhaps it was discovered the fellow believed his own thoughts.

A master of ceremonies is an individual who takes 15 minutes to introduce a speaker he says needs no introduction.

Florida college offers a course in humor. With so much funny business going on, it should be a snap course.

General Peng, commanding Chinese red forces, killed his grandmother when he was only three years old. With that precocious start he was bound to rise high in communist circles.

She lists as special interests tennis, hiking, horse-back riding and music. #### Christian Growth and The Bible

It is interesting to receive letters through the mail. One picks up the letter wondering who wrote it. We look at the postmark to see where it came from. We try to imagine what the message is even before we open it. It may be a letter from someone who is at a summer camp. He or she tells all about the beauty of the countryside, the loveliness of the rippling stream, the glory of the evening sunset and the morning sunrise. You may receive the letter while you are away from home. It may be from a loved one who is anxious that you enjoy yourself and that you do not get sick or into trouble. You always appreciate a letter from home. It may be a letter from a friend in a foreign country describing to you their methods of living and worshipping in their native land.

It should be equally interesting to regard the Bible as a volume of letters. Letters written by people long ago to tell us and future generations about their experiences. Of course their main subject of discussion is God. That is why they wrote those letters or little books. They wished that we might know what they had discovered about God in their experiences and that we might have the benefit of their discoveries and not duplicate many of their mistakes and hardships. In fact it must be that God prompted them to write to us so that we like them might read God into our daily experiences. It is more as though God had written to us through them.

Now think of the impoliteness when we fail to open and read the letters of our friends. Think of all the beautiful things we could miss. In a like manner, is it not an unfriendly gesture to God and the good people of old to refuse to read the Bible?

My Prayer: Kind Heavenly Father, Thou art ever anxious that we should know Thee, and Thou hast not left us without a message of Thyself. Inspire me by Thine own Spirit, that I may hear Thee speaking to me in Thy still small voice. In the rippling waters and the singing of the birds, in the innocence of a lovely baby and the goodness of a righteous man, may I hear Thee say to me, "Fear not for I am Thy God." Enlighten my mind that I may read wondrous truths out of Thy Holy Word, and help me to understand Thy will for me. For Jesus sake. Amen.

coln Highway and we have to warn them repeatedly," said Cpl. Jones. "After you have warned them check on them, and if they are drunk it is better to keep them alive in the County Prison overnight than have a man killed walking along the highway."

Cpl. Jones suggested that each borough and township policeman keep a spot-map for a five year period so that they can tell where the accidents in that section happen most frequently.

Touching on the need for a Bucks County Highway Safety Council, Cpl. Jones said: "I know that Mr. Transue, director of the safety council, Harrisburg, feels that Bucks county should have one too."

President Clarence K. Wenhold presided, and Burgess George A. Scholes, of Quakertown, served as the secretary in the absence of the secretary, Franklin V. Shelly.

President Wenhold named Chief Robert Watson, Yardley, Box 182, of Lower Makefield twp.; John Brehm, Bristol; Chief Harvey Wambold, Parkside; Officer Cyrus L. Tomlinson, Doylestown, and officer S. J. Reiter, of Quakertown, members of the sick committee.

Chief William D. Hammer-schmidt, of Sellersville, reported that the police-radio legislative bill is still "in committee" in Harrisburg.

President Wenhold announced that pistol practice is being held the first Monday of the month in the Old American Legion Home.

3M TAKES TIGHT GRIP ON LEAD; DEFEATS KAISER

Swamping the Kaiser Metal team, 3M's took undisputed possession of first place in the Bristol Suburban Softball League last evening. The scotch-tape makers won a decisive victory, 11-1.

Minnesota Mining scored all its runs in the first two frames, seven in the first and four in the second. Kaiser Metal used three hurlers. Claude Deitzler started and went out without retiring a batter. He was replaced by Paul Paolillo who pitched until the fourth when Pete Volpe went to the mound.

The 3M's team tagged the trio of pitchers for 19 safe blows. Three of the hits were doubles from the bats of Charles Whitney, George Adams, and Vic Cauti while "Chuck" Kline slashed a triple. Cauti had three of the ten hits. In addition to the hits, 3M's was the recipient of six walks and a hit batsman.

George Wallace allowed Kaiser Metal four hits. In the third Charlie Simmons connected for a long triple to left to score Lou Sassi. Simmons was out at the plate, trying to stretch the drive into a home run. Simmons had two of the four hits.

Rohm & Haas Wars On Unpleasant Odors

lem. As the plant has grown, new processes have been added and all waste problems have been studied and treatment facilities installed as rapidly as possible.

"With the expansion of our manufacturing facilities at the Bristol plant, we have been faced with very difficult disposal problems," W. B. McCluer, manager of the Bristol plant, said this morning. "We have been conscious of them and have worked continuously on ways of preventing contamination of the air and pollution of the Delaware river. Since the products which we manufacture at this plant are comparatively new, the disposal problems are unique, and we cannot copy what others have done in solving their problems. We have always attempted to apply the latest and most modern techniques in our disposal projects, and it was only after a research of a year and a half that we discovered the best method to overcome the problem of unpleasant odors. We are now going ahead with this special trickle filter system to correct this condition."

HAWKS WIN 5TH GAME IN A ROW; FRANKLIN LOSES

The Hawks won their fifth straight game of the second half of the Bristol Boys League last evening as they nosed out Franklin, 3-1, to take undisputed possession of first place in the league.

Air-tight pitching by Denny Foltz and Bonner accounted for the Hawks' triumph. Foltz struck out 13 batters but when he appeared to be weakening he was replaced by Bonner who struck out the side in the seventh with runners on first and third. Neither pitcher allowed a hit.

Daniels had two of the winners' five hits. Tony Angelo did the twirling for Franklin.

LEWIS LODGE MOVES INTO LEAGUE LEAD

The Clinton Lewis Lodge moved into first place in the Bristol Clubmen's Softball League last night, when they trounced the No. 1 Fire Co. by a 14 to 4 score. The Vets, who were tied for first place, were idle last night and will play the Loyal Order of Moose tonight. Should the Vets win, the top spot will again be in a deadlock between the Lewis Lodge and the Terchon Post.

The game played was a free hitting affair for the Lewis Lodge, with Ray Dorsey starring in the hit department as well as the runs batted in department. Ray also did a fine job behind the plate. Johnny McMullen did the hurling for the winners and had fine support, especially from Keys in center and Ross at second. Hardy Johnson, manager for the Lodgers, benched himself in favor of Davis, who did a fine job at short.

The firemen tried hard but were no match for the fine plays and well-hit balls of the Lodgers. Many runs were scored on errors by the hosemen.

The Clinton Lewis Lodge will play their final scheduled game of the season on Friday evening, when they will meet the third place St. Ann's A. A. team.

way and start driving toward each other. They steer the jalopies toward a head-on collision and step on the accelerator.

The first driver to swerve his car is called "chicken" and is declared the loser—unless something goes wrong and all the "players" are killed.

The answer is in aroused interest at home and education in our schools. Our association is asking the Pennsylvania Legislature to raise the driving age from 16 to 18. If this fails, we feel that parents should be made responsible for all accidents caused by under-18 drivers.

We are also seeking to have driver safety courses taught in the first or second year of all Pennsylvania high school. Most areas now teach such courses in the senior year or high school—when it comes too late for many.

Civil defense is another new problem confronting law enforcement officials throughout the state.

We call it the "Korean spasms"—every time we win a battle in Korea, another half-dozen of our wardens quit. On many occasions the instructors have outnumbered students at defense emergency classes.

Unless we can get our people to see that the menace of enemy air attacks is just as important as that of Frank Costello, we are going to find ourselves in a state of unprepared panic if war ever comes.

In the policeman's main job—

the battle against crime, Pennsylvania police are now better equipped than ever before to apprehend the criminal.

The day of the small-town cop who had to work on his own is over. Today every officer in Pennsylvania is in touch with state and big-city bureaus, and with the FBI itself.

By working through our association, Pennsylvania police keep in touch with developments in every part of the state and nation.

A policeman can now, for example, pick up a pack of matches at the scene of a crime and send it off to the FBI in Washington for a report. He will get an answer within 24 hours telling him all about the owner—even to whether he is right or lefthanded!

And the people are more interested in crime today than they have been ever since the sensational era of John Dillinger, Baby-face Nelson and Pretty-boy Floyd.

If they remain interested now that the television hearings are over, I think we will be a long way toward having our problems licked.
